SERIOUS ACCIDENT TO A YOUNG MAN.—Mr. Harvey Poss, aged 22, son of the late Henry Poss, of this city, was the victim of a distressing accident near Cabin John Bridge yesterday, be having been accidentally shot through the body by Mr. Samuel W. Pitts, one of his young friends. It was reported late in the evening that the wound had late in the evening that the wound had proven fatal, but, to the relief of his relatives and friends, it was subsequently ascertained at a late hour last night that he was resting easily and that the wound was not regarded as necessarily fatal. There were several versions of the shooting, one to the effect that the pistol was accidentally discharged while the young men were in a carriage with two young ladies of in a carriage with two young ladies of this city; another which placed the scene of the accident on the road scene of the accident on the road while the young men were shooting at a mark. Another and entirely differ-ent story was that a ball cartridge had by carelessness been placed among some blanks and that the pistol was being used for saluting pur-poses. The following, however, is accepted as the correct version: Young Poss and Pitts left this city early yesterday morning accompanied by Misses Chase and Pittman, to make an excursion to Cabin John Bridge and Great Falls. They hired a carriage and started up the Conduit road from Georgetown. A short distance from the bridge Pitts stopped to give the horse a rest, and in the interval engaged in target practice with a small pistol. After one or two shots were fired the After one or two shots were hred the weapon got out of order and the cylinder failed to revolve. Pitts attempted to repair it, and in doing so exploded a cartridge, the bullet from which entered Poss's back near the shoulder, and passing through his left lung, lodged eneath the skin over the collarbone Deneath the skin over the collarbone. The young people were greatly frightened, and hastened with the wounded man to the bridge, from which point he was removed to the Georgetown Hospital in a trolley car. When the hospital was reached Poss was in a critical condition, and the surgeons feared that his life could not be sayed. By a rapid and delicate be saved. By a rapid and delicate operation the bullet was removed and ze was applied to the wounded lung to check internal hemorrhages. The young man who was handling the pis-tol as well as the young women of the party suffered intensely from the dis-tress caused by the unfortunate accident, and their many friends and acquaintances whom they met after their return home sincerely sympathized with them and expressed many hopes that the wounded man would recover. was holding his own and that his con-

A HOT FOURTH OF JULY .- The extreme heat yesterday materially inter-fered with the pleasure of many who had sighed for a pleasant mid-summer holiday. It was generally agreed that people who remained at home were more comfortable than those who made long trips into the country for the pur-pose of finding cool places, Those who patronized excursion steamers or trains found them too crowded for com-Yesterday broke under partially cloudy conditions, but the sun soon dissipated everything that obscured him and began shining in his might. In a the nineties, and before noon abreast of the 95 mark. Between 5 and 6 o'clock there was a local shower of short duration which temporarily cooled the atmosphere. Later the air resumed its sultriness and became uncomfort-able again. There was a noticeable diminution in explosives yesterday, but most of those used were of giant proportions and caused terrific reports.
Some made as much noise as a small cannon. A drum corps discoursed martial music at an early hour in the morning, according to a provision in the will of the late Lewis McKenzie. At night there was about the average display of fireworks which was kept up display of hreworks which was kept up until after ten o'clock. A large percentage of residente spent the day in the woods, or besides cool springs, while others patronized the excursion steamers and electric trains. About the usual number went down the river in sailboats and whiled the day away the cool of the colored residence. in sailboats and whited the day away sishing and picuicking. The colored citizens observed the day on the grounds of the John Hay Industrial School in the afternoon. The attendance was large.

THE DEADLOCK in the Board of Al dermen, from present appearances, is about as firm as the backbone of the present torrid wave, and the members are apparently as immovable as they were last Monday when, with the mercury at the century mark, they took 155 ineffectual ballots for president. Scores of people have made keys with which to pick the lock, but so far none have fit or been able to turn back the bolt. There is but one effectual measure-a heroic one-and that is to shatter the combination and a duplicate key for this purpose is in the possession of every member of the board. The knot is worse than a Chinese puzzle and the man who is to use the sword, so far, has not materialized. Every suggestion as to how the tangle could be unraveled has been rejected. In the meantime the coming Tuesday is drawing closer and closer with the likelihood of a repetition of last Monday's scenes should the members now so firmly arrayed against each other remain determined. This unfortunate state of affairs is deplored by the friends of both sides and all hope some satisfactory method will be arrived at to relieve the situation at the next meeting.

A DEARTH IN HAPPENINGS .- Contrary to expectations, there has been a notable dearth in local events during the past forty-eight hours, the Fourth of July affording but few occurrences worth recording. The Mayor had a number of cases before him this morning, but the parties arraigned were charged with nothing serious. Those who had been arrested for being drunk were dismissed, his honor deeming the punishment of being locked up for any time during the prevailing weather sufficient infliction without being fined

THE HARBOR BOAT VIGILANT .- The new machinery for the Washington harbor police boat Vigilant has arrived in this city and is now being placed in position by the contractors, W. S. position by the contractors, W. Moore's Sons. It is expected that will be two weeks before this work is completed. Upon its completion the boat will be taken back to Washington and began shining in his might. In a short time the mercury was making for the boat will be ready for service about fine of $10, for stealing a suit of clothes August 1. The Vigilant has been rebuilt to nearly three times her former capacity.

> CORPORATION COURT .- The July, a CORPORATION COURT.—The July, a grand jury, term of the Corporation Court will begin on Monday. The following cases will be presented to the grand jury: Frank Anderson, for breaking and entering a dwelling; Edward Miller, for forging an order; Thos. Stanton, for forgery, John Thompson, which is the stanton of the contraction of the court of t son, for breaking and entering a rail-read car; Robert Smith, for house-breaking, and George Parker, for housebreaking. The first two named recently made their escape from jail.

TRIAL TRIP.—The steam yacht Gretchen owned by ex-Senator Reyburn, made a trial trip about forty miles down the river yesterday. The party consisted mostly of Alexandrians, party consisted mostly of Alexandrians, among whom were those who have been engaged in building the yacht and placing the machinery in her. Every-thing worked very satisfactorily and the party enjoyed the excursion trip greatly. The Gretchen is one of the prettiest and fastest yachts now on the Potomac.

THE HOT WAVE still holds on with tenacity, although a relief wave is said to be in transitu which will soon force the present zone far out into the Atlan-tic. Its advent will be hailed with delight. The temperature today has been stifling, the humidity of the atmosphere rendering the conditions more unbearable. The mercury at

A WILDCAT KILLED.—The residents of Seminary Hill bave for a long time been annoyed by a predatory wildcat which has been regaling itself on chickens. Yesterday the whereabouts of the feline were discovered and Mr. George Wise procured a gun and by a well-di-rected shot killed it. The cat had been a terror to the neighborhood, having whipped all the dogs it encountered.
